

PREFACE

It is my great pleasure to submit the Self–Study Report of Shardabai Pawar College for Women to the National Assessment and Accreditation Council (NAAC), Bangalore for Re-assessment & Re-accreditation.

Assessment and accreditation of institutions of higher learning has brought vision to the Management, Administration and Staff, and improved the quality of education in our college. Since the last assessment and accreditation of our college consistently improving in quality of all areas of educational activities and infrastructure as well.

The peer teams evaluation and suggestion has helped the college authorities to focus on the weakness and improvement in such areas. Staff and authorities have strived hard to meet all the challenges and shortfalls indicated in the last report. Suggestions made in the NAAC report are taken seriously by Management and staff of the college and I am happy to state that through team-work and co-ordinated efforts we could do our best to convert suggestions into our strength.

Perseverance and pursuit of excellence at heart of each activity has made the college one of the best educational institution in rural parts of Maharashtra imparting education to girls.

We believe that the centers of higher learning are the centers of transformation of human mind which would contribute to build strong and prosperous nation.

This report is the outcome of the collective efforts of my colleagues.
